

A partner you can count on

Even in economically challenging times

100% testing – 0% interest for leasing or financing

Whether you need to replace outdated technology or acquire new test or measurement equipment to expand your business: High-performance, state-of-the-art systems will give you a decisive competitive advantage.

In this situation we can help you get the latest technology – with FOERSTER 0% Financing and FOERSTER 0% Leasing.

These limited time offers enable you to purchase a new test and/or measurement system without any upfront capital outlay or additional costs. The financing or leasing price corresponds to the purchase price. You don't have to save up in advance or dip into invested capital: Your liquidity remains intact.

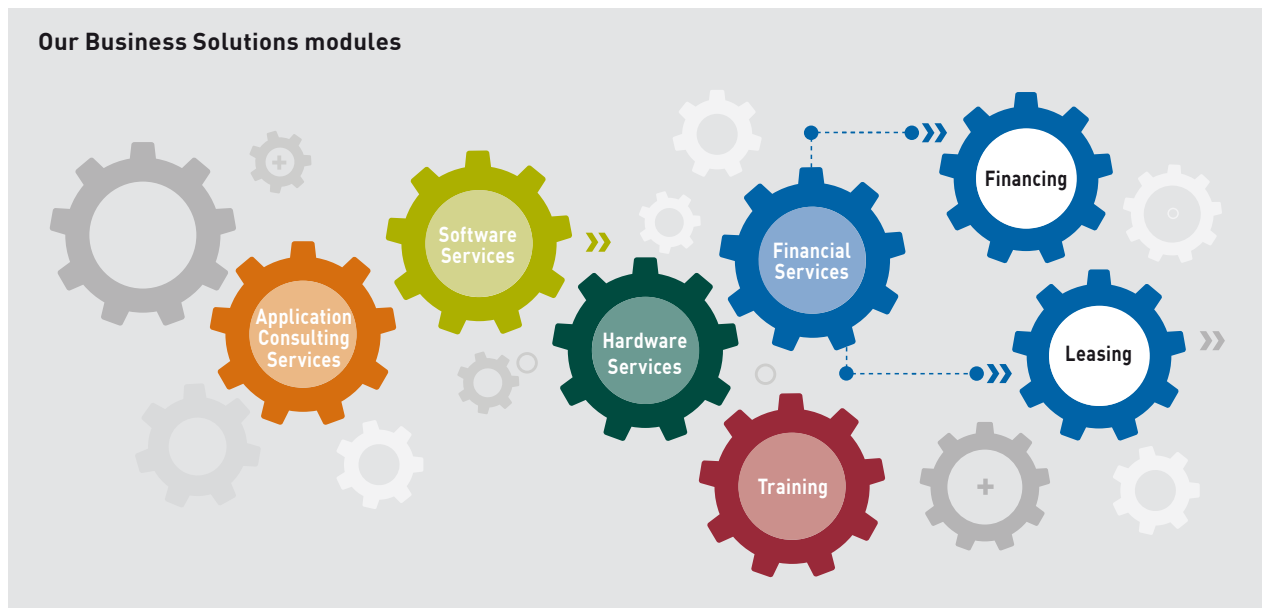

Besides the equipment itself, the leasing or financing contract also includes shipping and installation, as well as a user briefing session. Plus, our 24/7 service hotline and our qualified remote support are always at your disposal.

With equipment financing, you take full ownership of the new test and/or measurement systems at your company while preserving your liquidity. With equipment leasing, you're kept furnished with the latest technology, and the leasing installments run parallel to your use of it. At the end of the leasing period, you may purchase the equipment for a mutually agreed upon purchase price – or return it to us.
