

Experience the knowledge

The FOERSTERcademy is a place where we share our expertise with our customers. Where we explore challenging topics in an appealing way. Where our highly qualified and knowledgeable constructors combine theoretical knowledge with real-life examples.

Service description

Our aim is the steady growth of your understanding of non-destructive testing methods, so you can achieve the best possible results with your FOERSTER equipment. This is why we offer a wide range of regular training courses, in addition to a variety of options to meet individual requirements. You learn directly from experts with many years of field experience.

Our courses really work, not only due to the effective transmission of theoretical information, but above all because of the great practical relevance of that information. You learn how to configure, parameterize and operate your FOERSTER test and measurement equipment – all ideally suited for your daily testing tasks.

Because the key to success is qualified personnel.

The benefits to you

- In-person training courses are made up of numerous well-structured, hands-on instruction sessions
- Comprehensive documentation supports, supplements and ensures your learning success.
- We can also tailor the contents of the program exactly to your needs.
- Small group sizes foster concentrated learning and thus set the stage for outstanding knowledge transfer.

Our FOERSTERcademy trainings for your individual requirements

	 Basics	 Operation	 Configuration	 Service
Eddy current testing	●	●	●	●
Flux leakage testing	●	●	●	●
Ultrasonic testing	●	●	●	●
Thermography	●	●	●	●
Magneto-inductive testing	●	●	●	●
Magnetic field measurement	●	●	●	●
Hardness measurement	●	●	●	●

Individualized training solutions

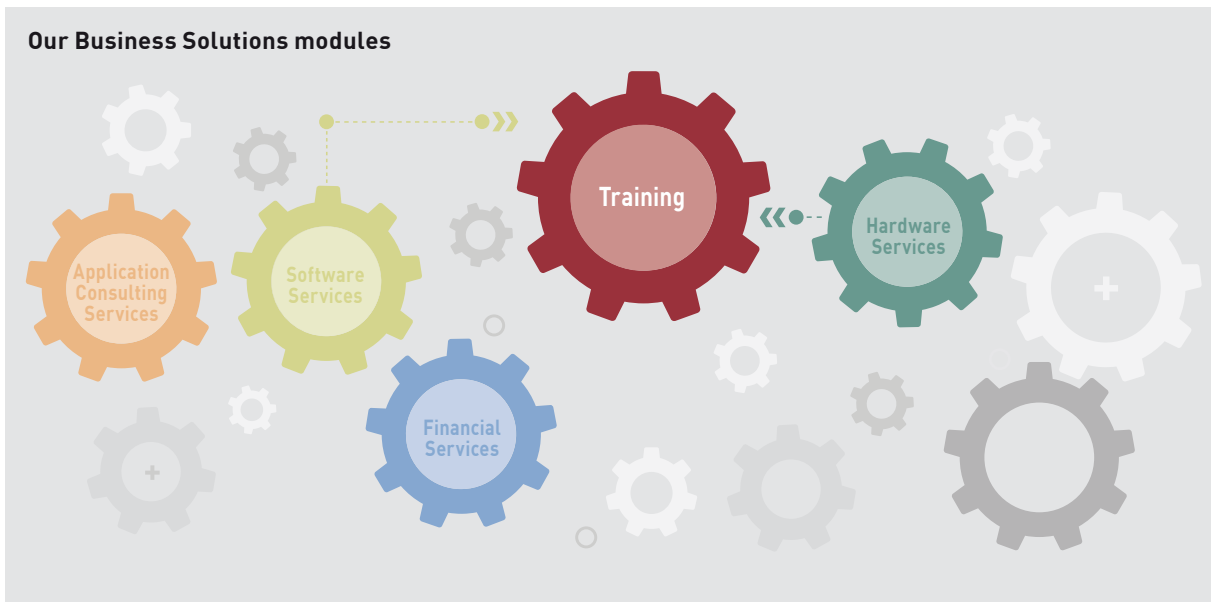

Modular and tailored to your needs – our individual training courses from FOERSTER.

Our website, foerstercademy.com, always shows the currently available training courses. If you don't find the right training for your needs, please contact us! We also offer individual training courses that are tailored to your specific requirements. These can be held either on our premises in Reutlingen or at a place of your choosing.

¿Habla usted español? Of course, upon request we also offer our training courses in other languages, and we would be happy to train your colleagues at your other company locations. If desired, this can also take place online.

The content, dates and duration of your individual training will be based on your requirements and defined in close cooperation with you. Simply contact us; together we'll find a solution that suits you best!

Our Business Solutions modules

The FOERSTER Group is being represented by subsidiaries and representatives in over 60 countries – worldwide.

Institut Dr. Foerster GmbH & Co. KG

In Laisen 70
72766 Reutlingen
Germany
+49 7121 140 0
info@foerstergroup.com

